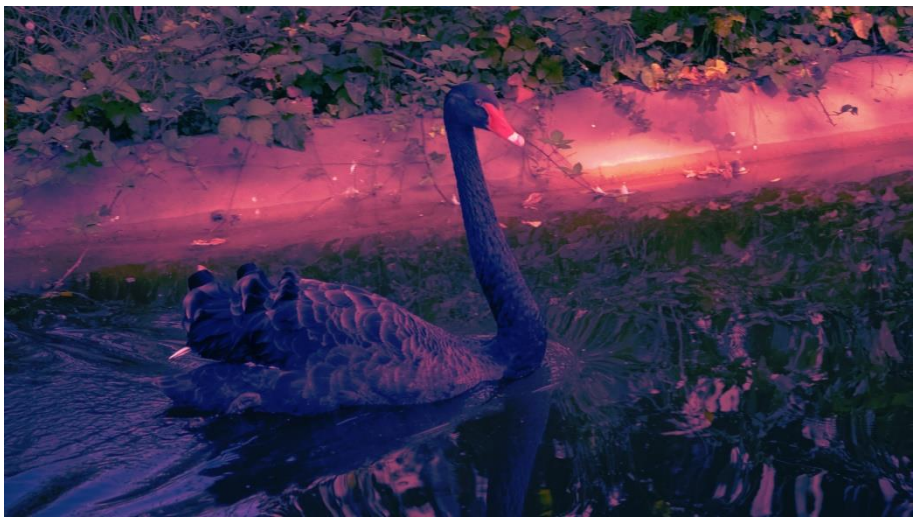
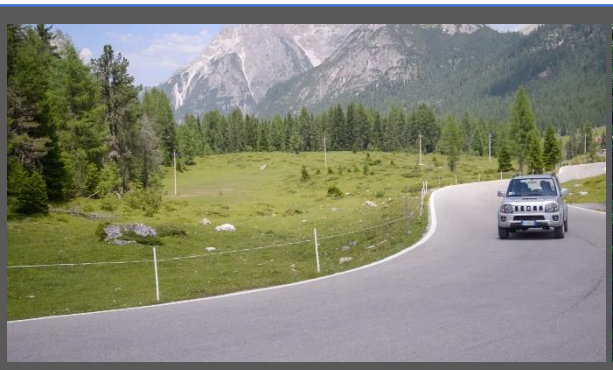
Part 1

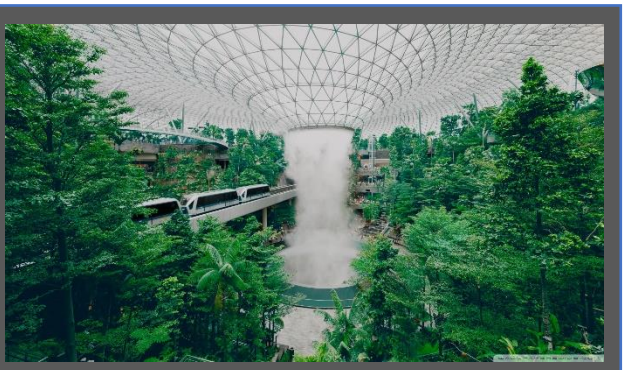
Green values of segmented part are decreased by multiplying with 0.2

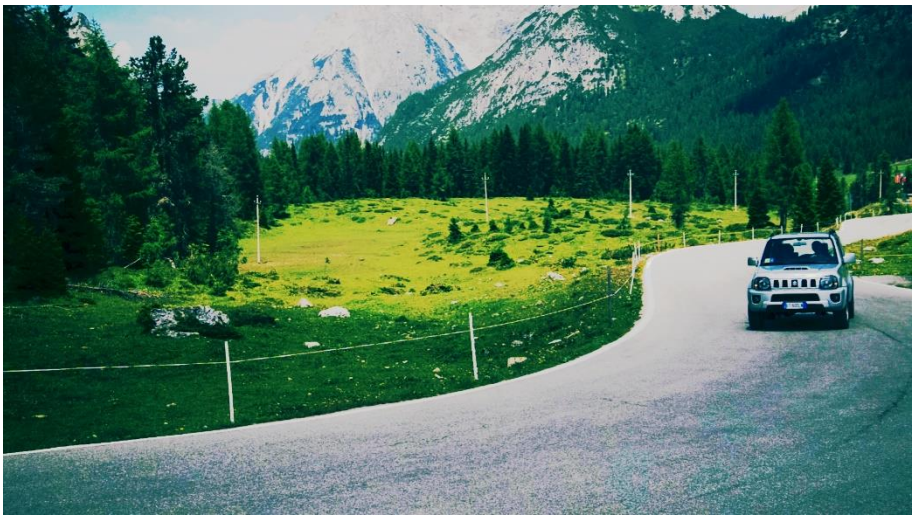
Part 2

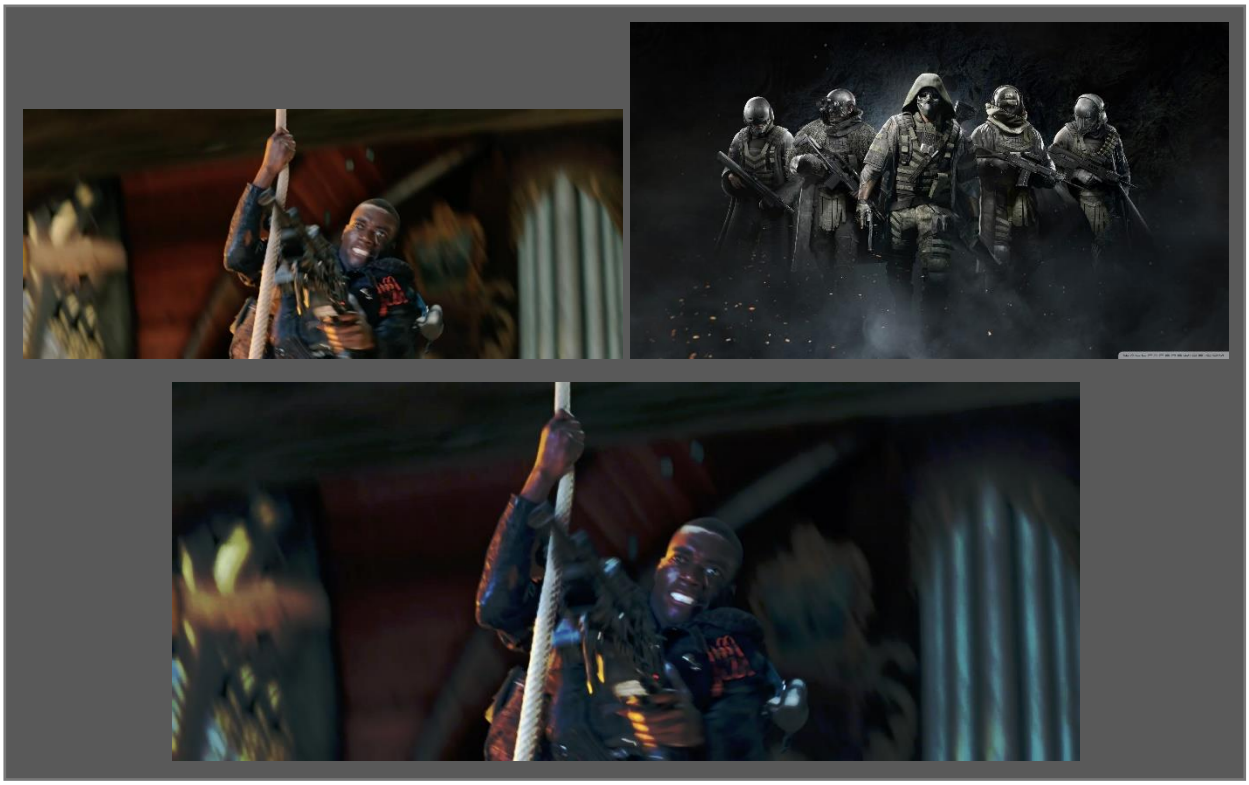
Effects that created by matching histograms are used to the original images. The original, target and remapped images are shown below.





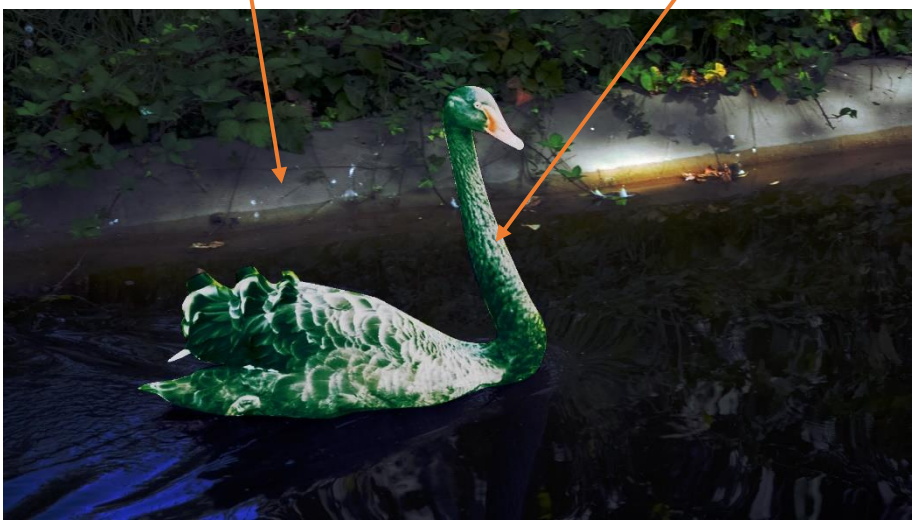


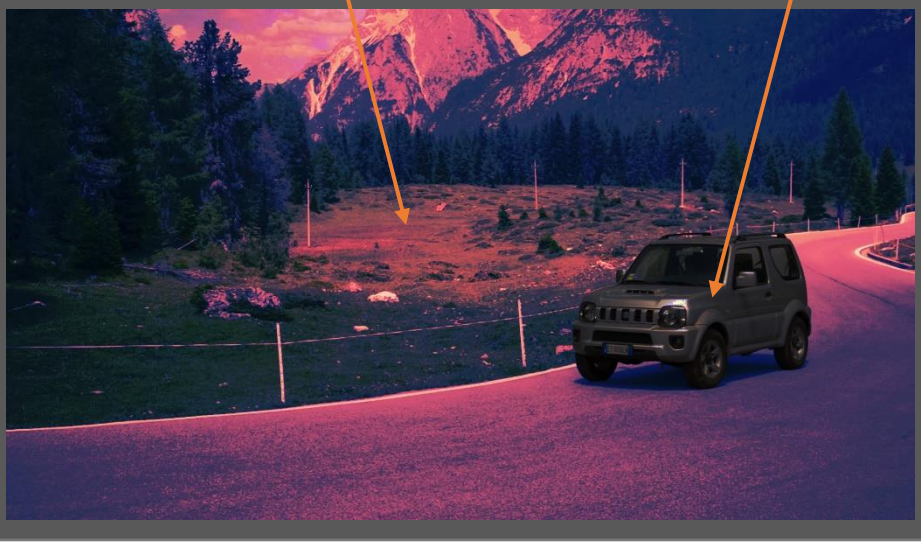


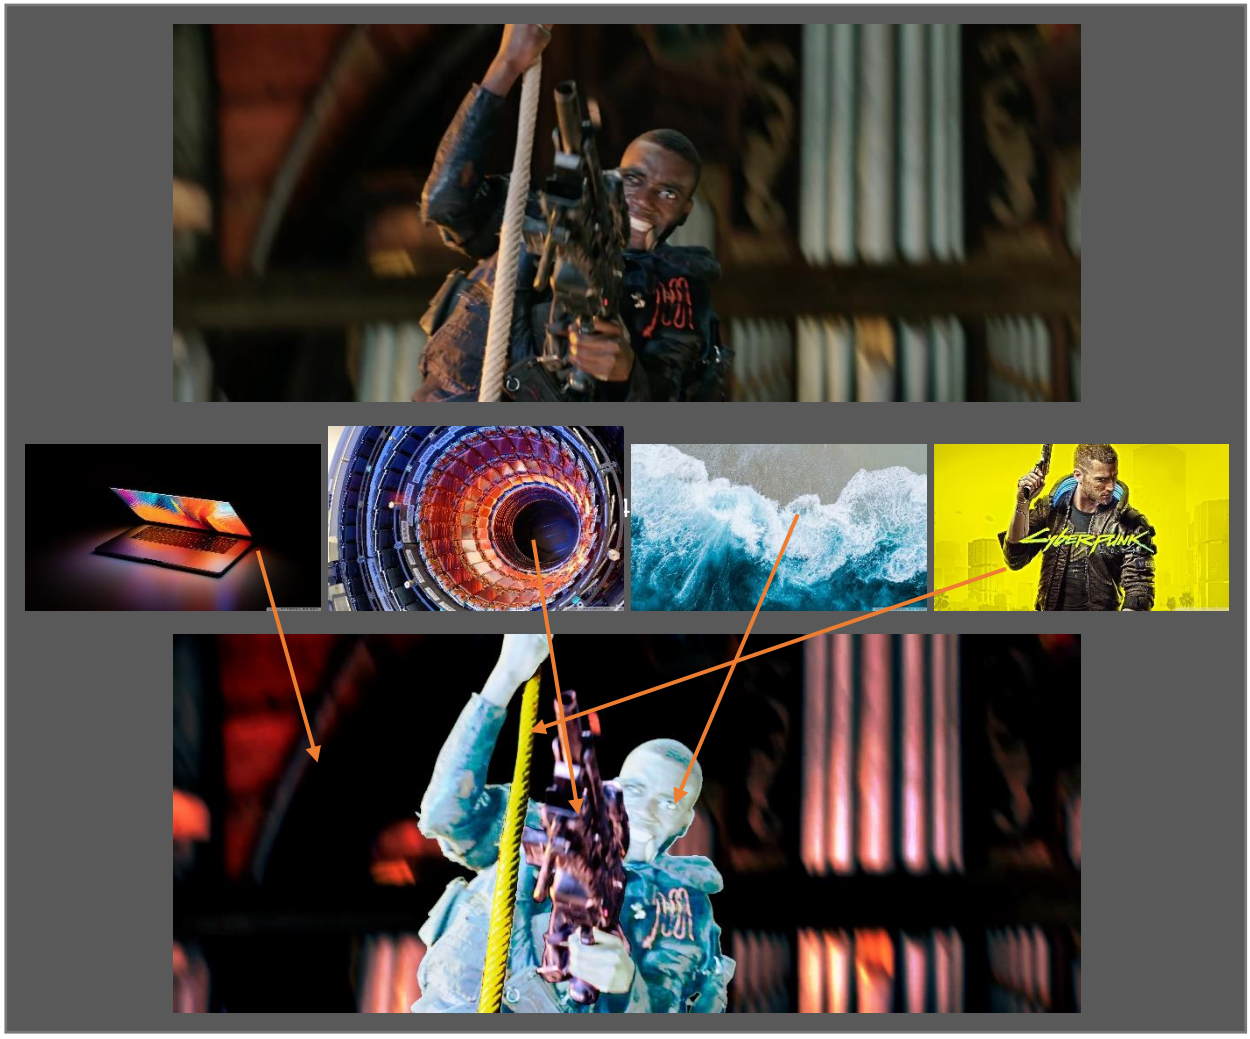


Part 3

Effects that created by matching histograms of target images for each segment as a separate object are used to the original images. The original, target and remapped images are shown below.







CYBERPUNK